ILLINOIS COLLEGE
JACKSONVILLE, ILLINOIS

CAMPUS VIEW OF TANNER

Your School . . .

That which this book contains belongs to you. It represents your education, your work, and your play. It represents all of those things of which you have been a part. It represents your school and your alma mater — "OLD ILLINOIS."

A year of college life has passed for you. So also has another year been added to the life of your college. You have watched the year fly by together. You are inseparable. The union is bound with heritage and tradition. You cannot escape loyalty held firm in love.

The year has been a memorable one. It has brought you all that a one hundred and thirteen years of lofty principles could accrue. For you it should have been a glorious privilege to accept and build on these principles. To help brighten the lamps your forefathers lighted.

Your accomplishments during your stay at Illinois College are now memories. Memories to be cherished the rest of your days. Fond memories that will haunt your very being and live on as symbol of you and your school.

That these memories may always have foundations this book has been created. If this book, in the later days of your lives, will carry you back to the scenes of your alma mater, if it embodies these remembrances within its covers, if it serves to kindle the fire of recollection fed by those thoughts which we would treasure and preserve, then this work has not been done in vain; the volume has accomplished all for which its creators have striven. It has given living memories of your school.

Your Leaders

We dedicate our book to these living patterns of scholarship and culture — Your Leaders.

To you they have been symbols of high attainment and learning. They are leaders and you have followed gratefully. They have dedicated their lives to you and you have been honored to be their fellow students.

These men have been leaders during your student days but their great worth to you will be multiplied a hundred fold long after you have left the Hill.

For these reasons we pay tribute to your leaders who have helped mould you to intelligent men and women.

*In Memoriam
To*

Dr. Frederic B. Oxtoby

While we renew and refreshen our memories of Illinois College in 1942 it is here proper to honor a life of full and generous service to mankind and Illinois College.

Dr. Frederic B. Oxtoby passed from our midst in mid-October of 1941. His passing marked the end of fifteen years of continuous and devoted service to "Old Illinois". To the memory of this distinguished scholar, teacher, and friend we here pay tribute.

Since 1927 when this learned man and his family became a part of our college and community he had played an important role in the history and tradition of our great school.

We miss him greatly. He was a friend and advisor to all who sought counsel under him. His interest in our affairs and problems was always evident and will be forever remembered. We cherish the memory of his warm and sincere smile, and his sense of humor that attracted all within his broad associations.

H. GARY HUDSON

PRESIDENTIAL ASSURANCE

In this book are preserved the memories of a happy year, doubly treasured in the days to come when many more of those who are closely bound with us in devotion to our Alma Mater will have answered our country's call to service in duties diverse and difficult. Illinois College can be proud of the manner in which students and faculty have responded to new and extraordinary demands, both here on the hill and on wider scenes of action. The tests have shown that the work of the College is sound. With confident expectation we look to victory and a return to the cultivation of the mind and spirit in the security of peace. Our best wishes go with all who leave the Hill and our assurance of a warm and eager welcome when they return.

H. Gary Hudson,

To the Deans of Our College—

In you we have found those characteristics that we have, at all times, sought as worthy guidance. It is here we wish to pay tribute to you as our leaders. It is here we wish to express our gratitude for your untiring work on our behalf.

Often your tasks have been difficult and your duties arduous but always, it seems, there was time during your busy day for counsel with us. You have proved yourself competent and understanding administrators. Your efforts on behalf of the welfare of us students has seemed, to us, endless. Your kindly assistance will never be forgotten.

The Seniors

As we of the Senior Class look back over our four years of college life, we realize that the happiest, most memorable, and, may we say, the most carefree years of our lives have been spent here on and about the campus of "OLD ILLINOIS".

Some of us can now see or are afraid to think for the fear that we will see that we have slipped here and there and could have done better, but we will have to admit the material and facilities were at our disposal. Thus we have no one to blame but ourselves if we have failed to get what we should have from a college education.

It is safe to say, however, that there are members of our class who will be remembered for a long time for their accomplishments. Those of us who have not been so outstanding have no envy for our more well known class members, for we have the fundamentals needed for our particular walks of life and our success, our failure, as theirs, depends now upon how well we can adjust ourselves to what is said to be a "cold cruel world".

In spite of all that Illinois has done for us it would not be correct to say that we regret to leave her as we are anxious to begin our life work; so "Bon Voyage", I. C., we will be thinking of you.

Juniors

Rolling off the third belt of the educational assembly line, juniors were well puffed up with learning and campus power. Prexies Gerry Hoedebeck and Dave Watson performed their usual useless functions ably.

Star athletes among the juniors were many. Bob Spink was elected captain of the 1942 football team. Dick Yates was basketball captain for the year and will lead next year's team with Don Coates. Byron Woods and Dick Riedel were main men on the diamond. Jim Coultas captained the tennis team.

Bob Schmidt and Dave Watson were junior Rambler editors. John Self was junior business manager. On the Rig staff were Peggy Steinhoff, Dave Watson, Harold Gordy, Bill Gleason, and Gerry Hoedebeck.

Juniors were active in the Hilltop players. Dave Watson was president, Rufus Smith vice-president, Babs Leeper secretary. John Self, Bob Dysinger, Jane Greenholt, Helen Dawson, John Prichett, Lucy Heerens aided in the club's productions.

Rufus Smith managed the mixed chorus. Gerry Hoedebeck and Helen Dawson were on the Forum. Jane Greenholt will lead next year's W.A.A. Self and Schmidt participated in varsity debate. A successful junior prom was prepared by Bob Allen and Jim Lacey, co-chairman of the dance.

Coming back in September, the Class of '44 was ready to swing into action again in scholastic, athletic and social activities. And although they were very busy leading their highly sophisticated lives as second year students, they found plenty of time to remind their inferiors, the Class of '45, that they were merely lowly frosh.

In the first major sport of the year—football—the sophomores were well represented. Thompson, Rulison and Kluz saw much action on the varsity as did Allen, Colclasure, Wisch and Pettit. When basketball season rolled around, Kenney Bloomer made history. Others from the sophomore class to do honors on the hardwood were Basso, Sorrells, Marks and Osborne. Bill Just, a transfer student, was not eligible for varsity play but he did do his share in bringing glory to the Illinois Bluefives.

Baseball, too, had its share of sophomores. Basso and Coates were at third and second in the infield. Both of these sophs got more than their share of hits for the Blue-nine. Caldini and Riedel also represented the class of '44 on the diamond.

True, the class was exceptionally well represented in athletics. Nothing has been said of the other sports—track, golf, tennis, and swimming. The sophomores took active

College life! This old and widely used phrase took on new meaning to the one hundred and thirty odd freshmen as they assembled en masse in mid-September on the Campus of Old Illinois. They were startled to hear boisterous exclamations of, "Button, Freshman", and "hey, Freshman, get off of the walks". Green freshmen could only be distinguished from the boisterous sophomores by the bright green hats that they wore—white bill turned down, and covering unruly tufts of hair.

The freshman class has been well represented in various campus activities, on both the Rambler and Rig staffs, in debate, and in the mixed chorus.

The freshman football team gave fine promise of one of the best varsity ball teams that Illinois has had in recent years. This also holds true for the frosh basketball team. The girls participated actively in the Women's Athletic Association.

The various campus societies were greatly stabilized by the induction of numerous freshmen into the fold.

Many clever actors and actresses have been found in the class and are now members of the Hilltop Players.

The Girl's Societies were well directed and had a very successful year. They combined in presenting their spring formal. This, also, proved an outstanding success.

Next year, as sophomores, their chief duty will be to convince the faculty that Homecoming is the highlight of the year and all measures should be taken to preserve it. It is certain that they will be as successful in this undertaking as they have been in all their other endeavors.

HILLTOPPERS • DEBATE • CLUBS • BAND

With Kenneth Hankins as President, the Forum continued to live up to its purposes of promoting cooperation and understanding between the student and the faculty and of upholding the cherished traditions of "Old Illinois".

Approval was given to the Frosh initiation plan by the student council as was proposed last year. Homecoming proved to be a trying event for the Forum this year, and for a time it appeared that many, if not all, of the ancient traditions of Homecomings at Illinois would cease to exist, however, this governing body met the crisis and upheld the characteristic Illinois Homecoming. This won the approval of all concerned.

No doubt the most important plan adopted by the Forum, after getting the approval of the majority of the student body was a plan proposed by the faculty and administration to place more disciplinary responsibility in the hands of the student body. The plan as adopted calls for the student council to be responsible not only for prescribing a penalty in disciplinary cases not directly covered by rules, but, also, for information, through the honor system, concerning those responsible for the misdemeanor. A committee composed of Gerry Hoedebeck, next year's Forum President, Helen Dawson, and Audrey Stass will work out a form of student government to carry out the principles of this plan which will go into effect next year.

W. A. A.

The first meeting of the W.A.A. was held late in September. At this time the following officers were elected: Gwen Brim, President; Lois Kunzelman, Vice-president; Charlotte Williams, Secretary-Treasurer. Managers for the various sports were named at the same time. They were as follows: Shirley Hoeger, hockey; Doris May Mengden, archery; Dorothy Blackburn, golf; Jane Greenholt, basketball; Lois Kunzelman, bowling; Luci Heerens, tennis; Betty Williams, fun nites; Emmi Hauser, hiking; Marjorie Krone, badminton.

The first event on the W.A.A. program was the annual "Play Day" held during "Freshman Week". Then followed the steak fry on October 13. On this occasion the purposes of W.A.A. were explained

The purpose of the Inter-Society Board is to establish and uphold the highest standards of friendship, loyalty and good-will among the women's literary societies. Its duties are to supervise activities of the societies, to settle disputes, to govern rushing of the freshmen women and to determine the dates of events.

The board is composed of nine members, three representatives from each society, from which are elected, a president, a secretary, and a rush captain. The offices rotate annually among the societies.

In addition to the regular activities this year the board under the leadership of Gwen Lee, President of the Illinois College Association of Women, put on a Woman's Day. On that day the women took charge of enrolling the student body and faculty for civilian defense, following which there was a formal banquet at Baxter Hall. At the banquet Mrs. Eloise P. Bingham, editor of the Illinois Education magazine, spoke on the challenge of the present world situation to women.

This year a committee appointed by the Inter-Society Board was in charge of the combined spring formal of Chi Beta, Gamma Delta, and Sigma Phi Epsilon. The formal was held at the Dunlap Hotel on March 28.

Since the revision of the constitution last year the Inter-Society Board has become a strong, effective organization.

as were the methods of earning pins and letters to the new members. On October 24 the organization presented a "Fun Nite" in the Old Gym. Nickelodian dancing, badminton, ping pong and handball headlined the program for the evening.

Snow, rain and mud "bobtailed" the hockey season to one game which was dropped by the Blue-girls. The basketball season was quite successful as the basketeers had the majority of their games in the win column. The minor sports were curtailed because of the accelerated program.

On April 26 the W.A.A. concluded its year's activities with the annual breakfast. Pins were awarded to Williams, Hoeger, and Hauser, and "I" sweaters to Waichekauckas and Greenholt.

The Rambler under student direction with the guidance of the Rambler Board of Control continued to offer valuable suggestions and took a leading role in arousing interest in the lecture series and in all student activities.

This year the Rambler was edited by Dodie Peterson with Robert Schmidt, Dave Watson, and Jane Greenholt serving as Junior editors.

Robert Austin proved to be a very efficient Business Manager. John Self was Junior Business Manager.

Please, Just One More Adv.

After a near riot among the members of the 1941 Rig Staff, the names of those whom they recommended were sent to the Forum for final decision. The results were: Juniors Jack Kasper and Harvey Scott were selected as co-editors, and Jean Fait was named business manager. Mr. Clarendon Smith was faculty advisor. Most of his services were related to the business matters of the Rig.

The co-editors supervised all photography, art work, and write-ups. Business manager, Jean Fait, and his staff, arranged all the advertising for the book.

Besides the co-editors and business manager, the Rig Staff consisted of Dave Watson, Peggy Steinhoff, Dean Smith, Evo Bernardini, and Bill Sullivan on the editorial staff, and Bill Gleason and Harold Gordy worked on the business staff.

Louie Roley, also, contributed to the art work of the yearbook. The Dean's office rendered valuable services in identifying pictures. Appreciation and thanks are also extended to Gwen Lee, Mary Rose Mollenbrok, Nellie Ravely, and Carol Coultas who helped with the editorial work when several members of this staff became too involved in examinations to complete their assignments.

To all who have contributed to the publication of the 1942 yearbook the Rig Staff expresses its warmest appreciation.

Feature writers for the Rambler included Robert Schmidt, who kept us informed on world affairs with his "Highlights and Shadows" column, Peggy Steinhoff, who enlightened us about the stage, and Dave Watson with his "Deadwood" column which did not inform us of any particular thing but was one of the best edited "scandal" columns for some time.

For the school year 1942-43 Schmidt has been chosen Editor in Chief of the Rambler, and Self, Austin's understudy, will be business manager of next year's paper.

The Rambler

This year the Hilltop Players celebrated their thirtieth anniversary—thirty years that have been ones of constant advancement of the club. Founded by John Griffith Ames and now ably led by Ned Donahoe the I. C. Dramatic Club has each year matched better plays with better productions.

Despite the jolt which Pearl Harbor gave to all extra-curricular activities the Hilltoppers managed to present three full length plays. First of these, Noel Coward's clever comedy, "Private Lives," was given in October. With this production the club turned the tables on the usual by presenting it in the chapel with a mood carrying symbolistic setting. Number two on the club's list was the Russian farce, "Squaring the Circle," performed before a laughing audience at the I.S.D. Auditorium. The third production, Marlowe's "Dr. Faustus," the annual commencement play, was perhaps the most successful of the series. Dramatically staged in the Congregational Church the show hit a new high in both acting and technical advance.

Officers were Dave Watson, Rufus Smith, Babs Leeper.

Social Committee

The Social Committee sponsored four successful dances during the past year. In addition it has also been responsible for several smaller nickelodeon affairs such as the College Mixer and the Leaf Raking Dance.

The first of the Committee's large dances was at Homecoming on Nov. 18. The dance was held at the I.S.D. Gym with music furnished by Nat Towles and his orchestra from Omaha, Nebraska. His music was well received and his band was the most outstanding to play at the school this year.

To mark the close of the football season the committee gave the Grid Hop on Nov. 25. Music was furnished by Carl Landrum and the gym was attractively decorated.

On February 21 the Heart Hop was held. Freddy Stevens and his band provided smooth music for the dancers. The dance was held in the old gym and was decorated by the town girls.

The last dance of the year, backed partially by the Social Committee, was the Senior Ball on April 11. Ably headed by Co-chairman Jean Fait and Chet Bingaman the dance proved to be highly successful and was held in the I. S. D. Gym. The music was furnished by Sternie Sternberg and his fine band. The decorations were carried out in a patriotic theme.

The Committee was headed by Chairman Lois Kunzelman, Sigma Phi Epsilon. Orchestra committee, Jean Fait, Sigma Pi. Secretary, Jack Roy, Phi Alpha.

A Waltz

Debate

"Toby," Helen and Bob

Freshman debate opened the arguing season with the question of draft extension. The debate on Dec. 18 for the Wood individual prizes found Bob Stahlhut, George Majors, and Helen Patterson taking the affirmative, and Harris Rowe, Curt Schillerstrom, and Doris Klass upholding the negative. Helen was judged first, Curt second, and Harris third.

Jan. 10-11 saw the first varsity tournament, an invitational at State Normal, on the question of governmental regulation of labor unions. Keith Mossman and Bob Schmidt, debating both sides, won four out of six debates to tie for second place in the "championship" division. In the non-decision "experienced" division John Self, Bayard Oxtoby, Helen Patterson, and Harris Rowe were entered. Rating was given on individual performances, and John was judged first in each of six, and Helen, first in five out of six.

At the Manchester (Indiana) College invitational on Feb. 27-28 Helen Patterson and Bayard Oxtoby took the negative and Curt Schillerstrom and Bob Schmidt, the affirmative to pull out a team score of nine out of twelve decisions.

Jacksonville was the scene of the state tourney and our final debating of the season, having been snowed out from Charleston. Self and Oxtoby on the negative and Schmidt and Schillerstrom on the affirmative held seven out of twelve encounters.

Mr. Johnson reported it a fairly good season.

Inter-Society Debate

To the accompaniment of Phi Alpha cheers and a shower of white carnations, permanent possession of the faculty trophy for inter-society debate was narrowly missed by Sigma Pi in a 2-1 decision in the final round of this year's edition of the twenty-year-old battle.

The Gamma Nu team of Ezra Sarachan, Dean Smith, and Evo Bernadini failed to hold off the Phi team of Keith Mossman, Ted Enselman, and Paul Findley in the preliminary round; likewise, the Sig team of Bob Schmidt, John Self, and Bayard Oxtoby in the final round.

The Winners

Schmidt's poise and Self's rapid-fire delivery failed to hold the seven-year fort, and the Phis romped in with the well-earned win. Enselman and Findley were in even better than their usual form, but it was Mossman's all-inclusive rebuttal that clinched the case.

This year's final round question was on governmental regulation of labor unions, the Phis taking the "aye" side. All finals debaters but Oxtoby were at least two-year veterans of this feud.

The "I" Club

The "I" Club is composed of men who have won the varsity monogram in any of the inter-collegiate athletics. Brought into prominence during Ray Elliot's reign as coach at Illinois the "I" Club has continued to grow in power and usefulness for the men who wear the "I".

As in the past the "I" Club's chief purpose has been to bring together all the I-men in a body, free of society influence, for the improvement and support of the varsity sports on the "Hill".

Under the leadership of Harvey Scott, first

The Science Club is composed of students and faculty members having at least one semester of science who are interested in furthering their own knowledge and that of others in the field of science.

Due to the limited enrollment at Illinois College all the sciences are combined into the one club. This is of advantage to its members as they are "exposed" to the best material from the four major sciences offered at Illinois. Interesting talks and demonstrations are given throughout the year at the bi-monthly meetings by members on an interesting topic in their field of concentration or on one of their scientific hobbies.

This year the Science Club was rather inactive due to the speeded-up program and to the fact that the members were unable to visit defense plants or other manufacturing companies as has been the custom; however, as usual many interesting programs were presented by the members at the meetings held in Sturdevant Lecture Hall.

The members of the Science Club are much indebted to the valuable advice and services rendered to them by Dr. Ravely, Dr. Boston, Dr. Cooke, and Dr. DeRyke, who are charter members of the organization.

During the past year Edward Roy, a Zoology major, was first semester president and Robert Whittle, whose major is chemistry, served as second semester president.

semester President, and Jack Brigham, second semester Prexy, the I Club sponsored the refreshments at the football games and presented the annual "Varsity Show". The show, "Alf Lamb's Life in the Army", was given in the Chapel and was a "howling" success.

The new Russel Field baseball diamond, also, was completed this year. It was financed almost entirely by basketball games sponsored by the "I" Club and from donations from alumni "I-men".

The Illinois College Mixed Chorus under the direction of Joseph C. Cleeland was an active contributor to life on the Illinois College campus this year. The group elected Rufus Smith of Springfield, Illinois, to be Student Manager for the year. Elizabeth Hudson was accompanist for the group.

The chorus first appeared on the annual Founders' Day program, December 8. Again in that same week the group sang with the Jacksonville Civic Chorus in the annual Christmas presentation of Handel's Messiah.

Doris, Dick and Lois

Under the leadership of Paul Findley, '45, the Illinois College Band was started up on another very successful musical season. Later in the year, Mr. Robert Fields, Winchester, became the director and acted as such until the close of the first semester.

During the first semester the band participated in many school and community events. Leading the gala Homecoming Parade, the band, with added instrumentation from Winchester to augment it, was a feature of the day's activities. When called upon by civic groups of Jacksonville, the band always responded.

At the start of the second semester, Ed Beck, '45, took the baton and became the student director. Due to the increased schedule of school work as a result of the newly adopted six-day week program, the band suffered a heavy loss of membership. Nevertheless, at nearly every home basketball game the band made an appearance. The band gave one concert before the student body on a chapel program and was scheduled to play again during the year.

The band furnished many students the opportunity to continue their practice of music. During the latter part of the year the band played only marches, but this was due to the limited instrumentation. The musicians of the organization are capable of playing much heavier music, as was shown at the first of the year when the band played many finer pieces of music.

The chorus appeared several times in the regular college chapel services and early in the year on special Sunday morning chapel services.

In place of the annual spring concert, the chorus this year prepared and presented a radio production of the Gilbert and Sullivan comic opera, "Trial by Jury".

The mixed chorus made its final appearance in the Baccalaureate Service on Commencement Day.

Little Psychodelphians

Psychodelphia, founded two years ago by six psychology majors, is a well known organization on the campus today. Meetings are held once every two weeks, at which time the members present papers on the different fields in psychology. Two guest speakers appeared on the program the second semester. Dr. Pontius, former minister of the Christian Church in Jacksonville, and Dr. Stewart, professor of Religion and Philosophy on the campus. Plans were discussed on how to keep student morale

Are you positive you have an angle on World politics? Have you figured out who's going to win the war—any war—and when? Well, then, step over this way, brother and sister; there's room for you in the International Relations Club. No closed corporation is this, but a group of worriers, prophets, demagogues, and interested thinkers, who get together in Baxter lounge to "let off steam" and have their say.

Actually, the two open meetings the club held this year were well presented and received, with some interesting discussion and thought about international topics being promoted along the way. At the first the eight-points of the Roosevelt-Churchill program were reviewed by a panel with Bob Schmidt, Read Schuster, Gene Smedley, and Jean Fait acting as leaders. After some sage interpretation, the topic was thrown open and a lively general discussion followed.

The second meeting brought forth Jean Fait discoursing on his favorite topic of "Union Now", as suggested and developed by Clarence Streit in his book of that name; general discussion of the evening followed on this subject.

Mr. Johnson sat in on the meetings as faculty adviser but kept the comment largely a student affair; for which, "Thanks!".

Time in next year's schedule permitting, the campus would like to see a more extensive program of this kind attempted by the club.

high during these days of stress and strain, and a couple of chapel speakers were brought to the campus as a result of Psychodelphia's interest in the question.

It is hoped that in the future, Psychodelphia can become affiliated with a national psychology society. The organization is open to all students who have shown interest in the field of psychology. And it is the purpose of this organization to enlighten its members in the fields of psychology not discussed in the classroom.

Sigma Pi

With ninety-nine years behind her and a great Centennial celebration in front of her, Sigma Pi climaxed another year of successful social and scholastic activity.

Ken Hankins led the society as first semester president while Charles Sevier took over that high seat during the second term. Both semesters brought forth a host of excellent programs, dances, celebrations, and date-nites. Probably most novel of all dances held on the Hill this year was the Sigs' "Brats Ball," a winter costume dance held at the Colonial Inn.

The ninety-ninth annual open meeting proved to be another entertaining event with a sterling program and topped by the annual "Sig Opera" that was without a doubt one of the best in the history of the society.

The Dunlap Hotel set the stage for the Spring Formal which was followed by the picnic and well attended Love Feast. Date Nites throughout the year were always events to be remembered.

Once again the Sigs captured their share of class honors. Hamilton, Watson, Smedley, Allen, and McGurk were so honored as presidents of their classes. Hankins was the president of the forum. Kasper and Fait were co-editor and business manager of the Rig.

Self, Schmidt, and Oxtoby made up a well balanced debate team, with all three also competing as varsity debaters.

Dave Watson was president of the Hilltoppers while Rufe Smith led the mixed chorus. Fait was co-chairman of the Senior Ball.

Along with these honors Sigma Pi was well represented on all of the varsity and freshmen athletic squads.

Sigma Pi has done herself proud again as she has in the past and will always do in the future.

This past year Dick Yates was captain of the basketball team, and Yates and Don Coates will head the '42-'43 Blueboys. Sorrells served as golf Co-Captain.

Class Presidencies were held by Gerry Hoedebeck, and Harvey Scott who was also Co-editor of the "Rig" and was elected to Phi Beta Kappa.

1941-42 was a year of superlatives for Phi Alpha Alpha. The Spring Formal on March 25 had the best attendance of many years and boasted a band. The Open Meeting, April 15, was one of the most largely attended and enthusiastically received events in the history of the society. The Love Feast May 9, held in the society halls during Commencement, had the largest attendance on the campus with fifty-two Phis attending. And the crowning achievement of the year was the winning of the Faculty Challenge Debate trophy back after seven years in the hands of Sigma Pi.

Under the leadership of Presidents, Edward Roy and Keith Mossman, the society grew steadily in leadership both in the classroom and on the campus. The society led all men's societies in scholarship both semesters. Harvey Gunderson headed Psychodelphia; Art Moxon and Marcy Osborne were on the varsity basketball and golf squads; Bob Pine was one of the tennis doubles men of the college; Bill Sullivan was a prominent Hilltopper; Rowe Samuell was a Rambler columnist; Keith Mossman finished his fourth year as a varsity debater; Delbert Price commanded the Book Store; Jack Roy was elected new chairman of the college social committee; Paul Findley won class honors, directed, sports edited the Journal-Courier; Ted Enselman announced for new radio station; Findley and James Lacey, both Phis, were student marshals at commencement; Mossman won final honors; Pine, Westrate, Osborne and Jack Roy won preliminary honors.

Seven new pledges were afforded the honor during the first semester of becoming Gamma Delts. The initiation took place in traditionally beautiful candlelight ceremony held in Smith House. This was followed by a well attended banquet at the Dunlap Hotel. Here the seven new members, in their first performance before the society, showed exceptional creative ability by presenting a well balanced program.

The honorary members and friends were entertained at a tea at the David A. Smith House, and later in the semester Gamma Delta was a guest of Sigma Phi Epsilon at an open meeting. Although the Christmas pot-luck supper has been a tradition for many years, the girls decided to have a Cozy this year. The open meeting for the freshmen

Because the college put into effect the accelerated schedule many of the social activities had to be curtailed during the second semester. The rush tea was eliminated while more emphasis was put on the rush party which was in the form of a progressive dinner. Mrs. A. R. Gregory, Mrs. Garm Norbury and Mrs. J. R. Vickery opened their homes for the evening. The biggest event of the year was the women's inter-society spring formal and finally the love feast which was held at the Colonial Inn.

The society is very proud to have won the Faculty Women's Trophy for the eighth time in eleven years and also is very proud of Helen Waich-ekauchas who was elected to Phi Beta Kappa.

Sigma Phi Epsilon began her twenty-sixth year under the leadership of Lois Deaver, President, with the formal initiation of seven new members. A Homecoming Cozy, a Christmas party, a tea for the honorary and alumnae members and a breakfast at the Dunlap Hotel were some of the highlights of the first semester activities. As customary, too, the Sigma Phips held their annual coffee and doughnut sale on "Leafraking Day". The Freshman women were entertained at the annual open meeting which had as its theme, "The Eternal Feminine". In the absence of Lois Deaver, Helen Dawson acted as president most of the semester.

At the beginning of the next semester Gwen Lee was installed as president after which the events of the second semester began. The members of Gamma Delta and Chi Beta were entertained at a regular program meeting. As a financial adventure the Sigma Phips gave a bridge to which alumnae, honorary members and friends were invited. The rush tea and party were combined this year in the form of an "Air Raid Shelter" party at the home of Mrs. H. D. Dobyns. Sigma Phi Epsilon and Gamma Delta held their spring formal together at the Dunlap Hotel on March 28.

This year brought a great improvement of the society room in David A. Smith House. The alumnae committee on room improvement refurnished the room in the French class design, and while it retains the cozy, warm, traditionally Sigma Phi atmosphere, it has a new air of elegance and romance.

To enable the returning alumnae to see the new room, the Love Feast was held at the David A. Smith House, a grand finale of another successful year for Sigma Phi Epsilon.

The second semester opened with the election of new officers as follows: President, Carol Coultas; Vice-President, Doris Klass; Secretary, Beatrice Berg; Treasurer, Wilmalee Bull; Forum Representative, Mary Elaine Rush; Parliamentarian, Helen Patterson. As a patriotic duty, the girls voted to donate the society room to the Red Cross for sewing purposes. Because of the accelerated program of the college, plans for the annual spring dance of

Under the leadership of Gwendolyn Brim, Chi Beta began her twenty-second successful year. A formal initiation of new members was followed by the Homecoming Cozy and participation in the Homecoming parade.

During the latter part of November Chi Beta entertained her honorary members at a tea at David A. Smith House.

The activities of the new year got under way with the annual open meeting for the members of Alpha Eta Pi. The theme for the very amusing program was "circus". The center of attraction was a very humorous skit entitled "The toast of the Big Top".

On Sunday, March thirtieth, Chi Beta entertained the freshmen girls at a "Rush" tea. The program consisted of a patriotic dance and a reading. Novelty favors were distributed to the guests.

Chi Beta again topped all of the societies in scholarship by obtaining the highest average during the first semester.

Thus Chi Beta brought the activities of the year to a close with a picnic supper held during commencement week.

This year's Blueboy team made a good showing on the gridiron in spite of the serious injuries to several players, and the great handicap of having a very small squad. Coach Lamb's men ended the season with three victories, four defeats, and two ties.

In the initial game of the year, two days after school started, Illinois defeated Carthage 12-7. This first battle showed the ground power of the Blueboys and gave them advance warning to be on the alert for passing attacks. The second game of the year, also nonconference, was at Hanover, Indiana, where the freshmen were again eligible for varsity play. The entire squad saw some action in the game which ended as a 7-0 win for the I. C. eleven.

The first conference game was played against James Millikin University at Decatur. The Big Blue team handed Illinois her first defeat of the year, 33-0. The following week the team went up to Rock Island where they suffered their second defeat, 13-7. After the loss at the hands of Augustana, Illinois College met Wheaton College and played them to a 13-13 tie there.

Playing the next game on the Jacksonville High School field, rain having made the college field resemble a lake, Illinois won over Culver-Stockton of Canton, Mo., 6-0. Again playing a Missouri team, Illinois traveled to St. Louis to meet the powerful Washington University eleven. 'Bud' Schwenk and mates served a 53-12 loss to Illinois in this game; however, the one-sided score does not give the whole picture of the game. Washington University got only four more first downs than Illinois.

The Homecoming game was next on the card for I. C. This game, on November 15th, was played against North Central. The boys from Naperville trounced the Blueboys 21-0, putting the damper on our Homecoming celebration. To end the season Illinois played a 7-7 tie against Wesleyan on Thanksgiving Day. This marked the last game in the college careers of eight Illinois players. They were: Frank Mangieri, Bob Austin, Jack Kasper, Jean Fait, Harvey Scott, Herbie Reay, Joe Hagelauer, and Bob Clark.

Illinois had good reserve strength in the freshmen of the squad. They were not able to play in the conference games, but next year they will be eligible for all games and should make the prospects for a very successful season. This fact, along with the new improvement on the field should give Illinois College a place on next year's football map. The football field was resodded after the season's final game and in the future will be used for football only.

Coaches Alf Lamb and Claude Beasley worked very hard with the squad this year; their work was not in vain. Illinois made a good showing. Lamb had a very small squad to work with, and a very serious injury to Bill Fry handicapped the team more. Fry was injured in the Millikin game and was out of the lineup during the remainder of the season.

Losing a tough overtime battle to Augustana, in the final game of the year, one of the best Illinois cage squads in history rang down the curtain of the 1941-42 hardwood season with a record of 9 games won and 9 lost. In spite of the rather unimpressive .500 record, the Bluefive had a very successful year, outscoring their opponents 781 to 763 for a margin of 18 points.

In the course of the year, the I. C. hoopsters had to face some of the toughest competition a Blue and White squad has run into for many years. The Normal Redbirds, I.I.C. champs, were the only quintet to succeed in downing the Blueboys twice during the season.

Winding up in fourth place in the I.C.C. standings, the Blue cagers won 4 of their 7 conference games with a total of 321 points to their opponents' 304. Two of the three conference losses, Millikin and Lake Forest, were to teams the Blueboys had beaten earlier in the season. The third was chalked up against them in an overtime battle with Augustana.

Leading the Illinois quintet in scoring was the sensational sophomore, Kenny Bloomer of Collinsville, who bagged 219 points in 18 games for an average better than 12 markers per game. Two other sophomores, Lee Basso and Art Moxon, were in the starting line-up along with junior Dick Yates, captain and most valuable player, and senior Joe Hagelauer, last year's captain and only senior on the eleven man varsity squad. Others who saw plenty of action during the year were: Basil Sorrells, Don Coates, Earl Underbrink, Wayne Clark, Fred Lawrence, and Ray Marks.

Baseball

With a new baseball park and a formidable schedule of top notch opponents the Illinois College baseball squad faced what looked to be a lively and successful season.

Russel Field was completed in early spring and has proven itself a popular haunt for not only local baseball talent but also diamond fans.

The 1942 squad also has an asset in the fact that they were allowed to use freshmen in all of their contests. Many of these first year men proved of great help to Coach Lamb in his season's drive.

Because of the accelerated schedule the squad was forced to postpone their popular southern trip until the semester had been completed. Before turning south, however, they went north and split a double header with Iowa State Teachers.

Of the thirteen regular scheduled games excluding the southern trip, the Blue Men won six. Ten more games were played in southland with Pensacola, Cochran Field, and Macon, Ga.

Lamb's regular lineup consisted of Bob Britz, first base; Clem Coates, second base; Don Nelson, short; Lee Basso, third base; the outfield consisted of Don Coates in left field, Dick Yates in center field, and Jack Brigham in right field. The catching duties were ably handled by Byron Woods and Morris Reed.

Able substitutes were found in Norman, McGurk, Rodgerson, Montgomery, Cannon, and Thomas.

The pitching duties were shared among Ernie Bickhaus, Roger Shieferdecker, Curt Mellin, Eugene Jaroch, and Dick Riedel.

Batting honors were shared by Lee Basso, Dick Yates, Jack Brigham and "Buck" Norman.

Track

This year's speed-up left little preparation for track and a season of only three meets; one win, from Principia, and one loss each to Millikin and Carthage. Only two men not returning next year are Harvey Scott, top man in both hurdles, and Bob Clark, dash man and broadjumper. Rulison accounted for high-jump and pole vault; Lawrence, discus; Kluz, half-mile. Great promise was shown by Justi, broad-jump and javelin; Marlman, broad jump and pole vault; and Freshmen: Ator, 220 and 440; Wickwire, javelin; Ebersole, mile and two-mile; Talkington, hurdles; Whitchurch, discus.

Tennis

Despite the loss of one of its veterans, the tennis team volleyed its way through a fairly successful season. The usual playing order was: Jim Coultas, acting as captain, Bob Pine, Ken Bloomer, and alternates Dale Dysinger and Bob Bradney. Lack of pre-season practice courts caused Prof. H. John Stratton's boys to get off to a slow start with a 2-5 loss to Millikin, a rain-out at Bradley, and a second loss (3-4) to Millikin. From here on, the netmen caught their stride and have carried Bradley in a 5-1 win, Wesleyan with 4-3, and Carthage to the tune of 6-0.

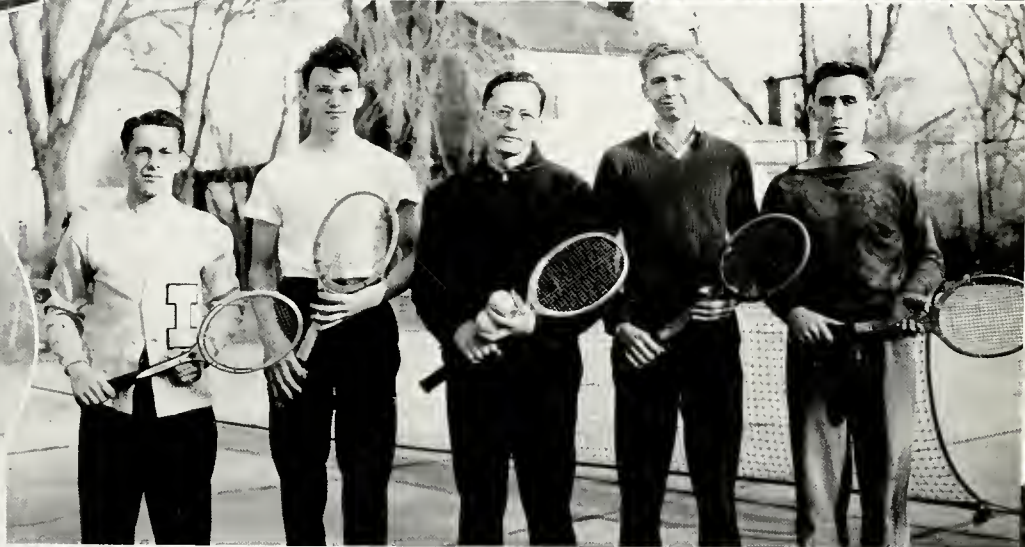

J. Coultas, D. Dysinger, Coach Stratton, R. Bradney, N. Whitchurch.

Golf

Two years of conference championships is a hard record to maintain, especially without two veterans, one of them the individual conference champ. Thus far, the golf season has been quite successful with two wins each from Western Teachers and Wesleyan, and a 1-1 split with Millikin. Co-captains Osborne and Sorrells, the only two returning veterans, alternated in first position; completing the squad were Patton, Moxon, Semeniuk, and Ryan. With more practice and seasoning on different occasions, Coach Beasley predicts some fair conference chances.

Freshman Football

The Illinois Frosh gave promise of producing the best varsity material in recent years. The frosh romped home with victories over Wesleyan and Western Teachers and a tie with Millikin to more than compensate for their 20-0 defeat at the hands of a powerful St. Louis University eleven. This fighting yearling squad should provide ample material for the '43 Blueboy gridders.

Freshman Basketball

After a slow start against the Normal reserves the Frosh showed a steady improvement as the season progressed and chalked up 8 victories against 5 losses.

From the performances of such stellar cagers as Justi, Dysinger, Whitchurch, and Roberts who contributed 391 to the team total of 463, it is apparent that next year's varsity will be well supplied with replacements.

The 1941-42 Intramural Calendar lacked the usual ring events—Boxing and Wrestling. Nevertheless, it was packed with Basketball games. This sport, which gained the attention of the entire student body, provided exercise and entertainment for a great percentage of the college.

Intramural

For the sixth year in a row the Gamma Nu Society won the much coveted Championship Trophy. They were victorious in every game, defeating Sigma Pi in the finals. This year's winning team was composed of Collver, Reay, Bingaman, Mack, Scott, Coates, Jordan, and Kirchwehn. Bob Britz managed the winning combination.

As this is being written, a Tennis Tournament is in progress. As this book goes to press before the tourney will be ended, it will be impossible to cover it in this year's Intramural writeup.

As at the basketball games, large crowds turned out to see these intramural matches. The entire student body receives much relaxation and lessons in sportsmanship from the intramural athletics.

The purpose of Intramural athletics is to provide a form of competitive sport for as many as wish to enter into it.

Women's Basketball

ILLINOIS COLLEGE

FOUNDED 1829

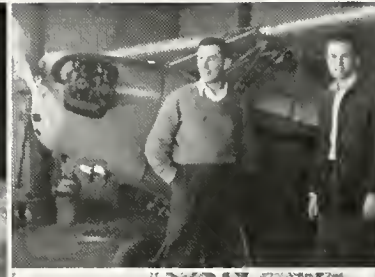

The heritage of an outstanding tradition awaits the Illinois College graduate, for since the time of the first graduating class which included Richard Yates, who was later to become Civil War governor of the state of Illinois, there has been included in each alumni group to go forth individuals who are to continue the outstanding records they have made while students at Illinois College.

Among the alumni we find such names as Robert W. Patterson, first president of Lake Forest College, George Sheperd Park, founder of Park College, William Curtiss, early president of Knox College, Newton Bateman, who established the public school system in the state of Illinois and later became president of Knox College, William Jennings Bryan, nationally known statesman and orator who served as Secretary of State under Wilson, Samuel Willard, pioneer administrator in the public schools of Chicago, Stephen Hempstead, former Governor of Iowa, William Herndon, biographer and law partner of Abraham Lincoln, William Jayne, first governor of the Territory of South Dakota, and many others who were to become officials in city government, representatives and senators in state and national legislatures, scientists, lawyers, doctors, educational leaders, authors, religious leaders, and business executives.

Illinois College looks forward to the achievements of those individuals who are now students on the Illinois College Campus that it may be justly proud of their additions to this noble heritage.

MYERS BROTHERS

After Graduation comes the grand job of living

FIRST—

To make good in the line of work for which you have prepared yourself—and to progress in that work.

SECOND—

To establish, eventually, a home of your own where "home life" will run smoothly and pleasantly through the years.
Be Guided by the happy experience of others.
At the very start, plan to take full advantage of good gas and electric service—plan to conserve your time, energy and money by using modern gas and electric appliances efficiently, by taking care of them.

The National Anthem

By the Audience

O say! can you see,
by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hail'd
at the twilight's last gleaming?
Whose broad stripes and bright stars,
thro' the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watch'd were so gallantly streaming?
And the rocket's red glare,
the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof through the night,
that our flag was still there.
O say, does that Star-spangled Banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free
and the home of the brave?

O thus be it ever when free men shall stand Between their loved homes and the war's desolation!
Blest with vict'ry and peace,
may the heav'n rescued land
Praise the Pow'r that hath made and preserved us a nation!
Then conquer we must,
when our cause it is just,
And this be our motto
"In God is our trust!"
And the Star-spangled Banner
in triumph shall wave
O'er the land of the free
and the home of the brave!

Alma Mater

By the Audience

Illinois, dear Alma Mater,
Ivy'd Beecher, Sturtevant,
Here we sing thy loving praises,
Here renew our covenant,

CHORUS—

Hail forever, Alma Mater,
May thy children bring thee fame.
Hail forever, Illinois,
In our hearts shall live thy name.

Treasur'd hill top, ancient grove,
Held in memory ever dear,
Winding walks and cherished campus,
Old and new united here.

May thy years increase by hundreds,
Proud as those already gone.
May the lamp thy founders lighted
Lead thee e'er to heights beyond.

Ruth Badger Pixley, '18.

Music by A. Boyd Pixley.
